About The Conference

The coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic and subsequent economic crisis had brought unprecedented challenges for countries. It had affected day to day life and slowed down the global economy. This pandemic had affected thousands of peoples, who were either sick or were being killed due to the spread of this disease. This, being a new viral disease affecting humans for the first time. Countries were banning gatherings of people to the spread and break the exponential curve. Many countries were locking their population and enforcing strict quarantine to control the spread of the havoc of this highly communicable disease. COVID-19 had rapidly affected our day to day life, businesses, disrupted the world trade and movements.

The impact of the coronavirus pandemic on India had been largely disruptive in terms of economic activities.
