Vision and Mission

Vision

- To provide education, more education, education made perfect, which is the only “panacea for our country’s ills and evils”. DEI aims to serve as an exemplary model of education, covering the entire spectrum of knowledge and wisdom, to selflessly serve mankind by evolving a race of supermen, who possess the virtues to resolve the grave global challenges and establish a more humane and enlightened society.

Mission

- The mission objective of DEI is to provide value-based, comprehensive and inter-disciplinary education to evolve a ‘complete person’, i.e., a well-rounded total quality person, whose hallmarks are intellectual strength, emotional maturity, truthfulness, simple living, high moral character, scientific temper, general awareness, interdisciplinary outlook and one who discharges duties and obligations and is capable of giving a fuller response to social and environmental challenges.

THE GENESIS

- The Saran Ashram Hospital was started by the founder of the Dayalbagh, Most Revered Sir Anand Swarup in 1927.
- In 1931-32 a dedicated building for the hospital was constructed.
- In 1934, well laid private wards were added.

DEI Faculty of Integrated Medicine

- The most important impetus for expansion and development of the hospital is the growing need of teaching and training facilities it provides for the existing Para-Medical courses and for introduction of new courses under the Faculty of INTEGRATED MEDICINE (AYUSH) OF DAYALBAGH EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE.
- Increase in the attendance of out- patients and the corresponding increase in the number of doctors and specialists attending on them.
- Actively supporting in conducting fortnightly DEI NSS medical camps in the surrounding adopted villages with participation of qualified Doctors, and regular free multi speciality medical camps being held at different places.

Clinical teaching and academic activities

Following paramedical courses are being run by DEI:

- Nursing Aides
