ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

Dayalbagh Educational Institute is an educational institution located at Dayalbagh in Agra. The institute has been given deemed university status by the University Grants Commission of India in 1981. The Dayalbagh Educational Institute (DEI), an A+ graded Deemed University by NAAC in Agra, is known for its broad-based comprehensive education.

With 80% students from socially and economically marginalized sections of the society and 67% women students on the campus, women empowerment and rural problem-solving becomes the major objective. Agriculture, Entrepreneurship and Consciousness are the areas where DEI aims to emerge as national forerunner with international acclaim.

The education system at DEI is based on Sigma Six Q-V (Quality and Values) model for sustainable future and better worldliness. It has successfully implemented Total Quality Management (TQM) framework which is based on excellence, initiative, creativity, innovation, and involvement of stakeholders.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Home Science exists under the Faculty of Arts of the Institute. Home Science education is for "better living" and the core of this education is the family ecosystem. The department has grown leaps and bound adding many new dimensions to its curriculum.

Home science is an integral course which builds an individual with all these qualities and thereby aims at development of individuals, family, the community, and the nation in large.

Presently the Department of Home Science is offering multiple courses catering to the diversified aspirational needs of the students and offering Graduation and Post-Graduation courses in Home Science, Food Preservation & Processing, and Apparel Designing along with MPhil and PhD programs.

The department is successfully nurturing the core values by training the students to become self-reliant and self-dependent.

ABOUT FDP
