About Dayalbagh Educational Institute

The Dayalbagh Educational Institute (DEI) is located in Agra amidst the tranquil environs of Dayalbagh, a self–contained colony renowned for its serene environment and secular establishment, in which its inhabitants lead an active, disciplined, and cooperative community life dedicated to service, conforming to the high spiritual ideals of their faith. On the outskirts of the historic city of Agra, the campus is situated in a garden setting, away from the din and noise, offering an excellent ambiance. This, along with a simple, disciplined, and principled life, undoubtedly contributes to the strength of the social, moral, and spiritual fibre of the Institute's educational system. The Government of India conferred the status of a Deemed University on the Dayalbagh Educational Institute on 16th May 1981, with the mission objective of evolving a complete man, providing opportunities to develop physical, mental, and spiritual faculties under its unique, innovative, and comprehensive education policy with an accent on quality.

About Faculty of Engineering

The Faculty of Engineering, established in 1950, holds the distinction of being a pioneer in imparting technical and professional education. The faculty consists of five departments: Agricultural, Civil, Electrical, Footwear, and Mechanical Engineering. The Faculty of Engineering has upheld a strong legacy of academic excellence, innovation, and value-based learning. It continues to prepare graduates with sound technical knowledge, ethical values, and problem-solving skills to make effective contributions to industry, research, and society. The Department of Mechanical Engineering conducts research in thermal energy storage, renewable energy systems, additive manufacturing, advanced materials, and sustainable technologies. Faculty and students actively undertake government- and industry-funded projects, ensuring impactful outcomes in both academic and applied research, while contributing to sustainable development and technological advancement.

About the Workshop

This workshop aims to provide participants with comprehensive knowledge and exposure to Intellectual Property Rights (IPR). It is designed for professionals, researchers, academicians, industry delegates, research scholars, and students seeking to strengthen their understanding of IPR and its applications.

Expert-led interactive sessions, led by IP practitioners and experts, will cover key areas including patents, industrial designs, copyrights, and trade secrets. Participants will also gain insights into technology transfer, patenting procedures, and patent laws. Special focus will be given to strategies for transforming research and project outcomes into patentable innovations.
